

THE VEILED PROPHET

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE GREAT ANNUAL WESTERN FESTIVAL.

The Prophet to Arrive at St. Louis on Oct. 1 and Hold His Annual Parade and Ball on Oct. 4.

St. Louis, Sept. 29.—The city is now on tip toe of expectation, in consequence of the promulgation of the edict by the Veiled Prophet announcing that he will arrive in St. Louis on the afternoon of Saturday, Oct. 1, and hold his annual parade and ball on the evening of Tuesday, Oct. 4. In honor of the Prophet there will be grand illuminations on both Saturday and Tuesday evenings, and these days with fair Thursday, Oct. 6, will probably see the high water mark in the matter of attendance at the carnival of 1893, which is proving so remarkably successful.

In previous years the Veiled Prophet has entered the city in a secret manner and left it as mysteriously, but this year, as a mark of his appreciation of the grand illuminations and other special attractions, he has announced his intention of arriving in state by boat. The War Eagle, with the Prophet and his staff on board, will arrive in the afternoon at the St. Louis wharf, where it will be met by a large detachment of citizens and a strong military detachment under command of Col. Wetmore. The Prophet will parade to the Exposition building, where he will hold a reception, after which he will retire to his mysterious "den," whence he will emerge on Tuesday evening at the head of one of the grandest processions of floats ever seen.

The pageant will proceed over the principal streets of the city to the Merchants' Exchange, in the splendid hall of which will take place the Veiled Prophet's ball, to which have been invited prominent citizens and society belles not only of St. Louis and the West but also of the leading cities throughout the United States.

Just What is Wanted.

Business is alive to a great coming event, and in the hurry-burry of its preparations for the Columbian Exposition in 1893, too much is already seen on the streets of a fanciful or amusing nature, both superficial and catch-penny. There has been observed a void in the line of the strictly useful, combining therewith instructive object lessons and the beautiful in art. Books there may be by the score, but the experience of the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia shows that the mass of these were mere trifles and unserviceable. The horde of visitors were ever at a loss for a handy pocket guide of official stamp, not only reliable, but pleasing and always fit to keep. Just what is wanted of this unique kind has happily already been made its appearance, and we have before us "The Official Portfolio of the World's Columbian Exposition," illustrated from water color drawings.

This Portfolio is a rare and beautiful exponent of the main architectural features of the Great Exposition at Chicago in 1893. The fourteen magnificent structures are faithfully exhibited, while the Bird's-eye View gives a realistic glance at the lay of the grounds, with their principal buildings, lagoons, etc. The illustrations are exact reproductions, in water color effects, of the original drawings, made especially for this purpose from the official plans, by America's best known water color artist, Charles Graham. The pictures therefore are not only official, but they are genuine works of art, and competent critics pronounce them to be equal to the finest productions of a similar kind of the famous art centers of Europe.

It is simply wonderful how such perfection in art accompanied by full descriptive matter, can be served to the Great Public in so cheap and handy a form. But, a copy of this exceptionally fine production will be sent to any address upon receipt of 10 cents in postage stamps by The Charles A. Vogler Co., Baltimore, Md.

The Telegraphers Strike.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., October 3.—The engineers have called a meeting. Chief Sargent will send an important communication bearing on the strike. Chief Ramsey, of the order of Railroad Telegraphers, said an investigation was being made concerning the connection of the Rock Island with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern, and if it was found that the Rock Island was controlling an interest, the strike would be declared on that road.

Singer Machine Works Burned.

Elizabeth, N. J., Oct. 3.—Fire in the Singer machine works at Elizabethport destroyed the cabinet and carpenter shops, each 300 feet long and three stories high. The total loss is about $5,000. Charles Galloway was injured and is believed to be fatally injured.

Pennsylvania Miners' Wages Raised.

Pittsburgh, Pa., October 3.—At a meeting of the committee of the Schuylkill exchange the rate of wages for the miners and nine laborers of Schuylkill region was fixed at 6 per cent. above $2.06 basis, and increase of 3 per cent. over the preceding month. All Reading and Lehigh colliers are included in the rate.

A Young Prelate.

Dallas, Tex., October 3.—Father Croffey, of this city, is in receipt of information that Bishop Brennan of Dallas has been raised to the dignity of archbishop of the new province of Dallas. The new archbishop is said to be the youngest in the world.

CLEVELAND'S LETTER.

The Principal Features of the Ex-President's Document.

Continued reflection and observation have confirmed me in my adherence to the opinions which I have heretofore plainly and publicly declared touching the questions involved in the canvass.

Tariff legislation presents a familiar form of federal taxation. Such legislation results assuredly in a tax upon the daily life of our people as a tribute paid directly into the hands of the tariffgatherer. We feel the burden of these tariff taxes too palpably to be persuaded by any sophistry that they do not exist, or are paid by foreigners. Such taxes, representing the diminution of the property rights of the people, are only justifiable when laid and collected for the purpose of maintaining our government, and furnishing means for the accomplishment of its legitimate purposes and functions. This is taxation under the operation of tariff for revenue.

This theory of tariff legislation manifestly enjoin strict economy in public expenditure and the limitation to the minimum of public works, inasmuch as it exhibits an absolute extortion and exaction, by way of taxation, from the substance of the people, beyond the necessities of a careful and proper administration of the government. Opposed to this theory the doctrine is now presented that tariff taxation is justifiable for the express purpose and intent of promoting special interests and enterprises. Such a proposition is clearly contrary to the spirit of our constitution, and so directly encourages disturbance, by selfishness and greed, of the patriotic sentiment, that its statement would rudely shock our people, if they had not already been insidiously allured from the safe landmarks of the principle.

The exigencies of a terrible war made our people heedless of the opportunities for the ulterior schemes afforded by their willing and patriotic payment of unprecedented tribute; and now, after a long period of peace, when our overburdened countrymen ask for relief and restoration to a fuller enjoyment of their incomes and earnings, they are met by the claim that tariff taxation for the sake of protection is an American system, the continuance of which is necessary in order that high wages may be paid to our workmen, and a home market be provided for our farm products. These pretenses should no longer deceive. The truth is that such a system is directly antagonized by every sentiment of justice and fairness, which Americans are justly entitled to feel. It is also true that while our workmen can, the least of all our people, defend themselves against the harder home life which such tariff taxation decrees, the workman, suffering from the importation of cheap foreign labor, and seeking security for his interest in organized cooperation, still waits for a division of the advantages secured to his employer under the operation of a generous tariff for his wages, while the farmer is learning that the value of his products are fixed in foreign markets, where he suffers from competition invited and built up by a system he is asked to support. The struggle for unearned advantage at the doors of the government tramples on the rights of these who patiently rely upon the assurances of American equality.

Though the subject of tariff legislation involves a question of morals, it also involves a question of morals. We cannot, with impunity, permit injustice to turn the spirit of our people into a question of expediency; and we shall fail to reach our national destiny if greed and selfishness lead the way.

We believe a readjustment can be accomplished in accordance with the principles we profess, without dissuasion or demoralization of the people, and we believe the advantages of freer raw material should be accorded to our manufacturers, and we contemplate a fair and careful distribution of the necessary tariff burdens, rather than the precipitation of free trade.

The attempt of the opponents of democracy to interfere with and control suffrage of states through federal agencies, develops a design, which no explanation can mitigate, to reverse the fundamental safe relations between the people and their government. Such an attempt cannot fail to be regarded by faithful men as a proof of the bad determination to secure the ascendancy of the discredited party in reckless disregard of the free expression of the people's will. To resist such a scheme is the impulse of the democracy. At all times and in all places we trust the people. As against the disposition to force a way to federal power, we present to them as our claim to their confidence and support the steady championship of their rights.

Every dollar put in the hands of the people should be of the same intrinsic value or purchasing power. With this condition absolutely guaranteed, gold and silver can be used as money on equal terms in the adjustment of our currency. In dealing with this subject no selfish scheme should be allowed to intervene, but our honest and unimpaired should be maintained. The inconvenience or loss that might arise can be much easier borne than the universal distrust and discredit which would result from a public money paid to those actually disabled, or made dependent by reason of army service, but our pension roll should be a roll of honor, unblemished by ill desert, and unvisited by demagogic use. This is due to those whose names are on the roll, and to all our people who delight to honor the brave and true. Preferences accorded to veteran soldiers in public employment should be secured to them honestly and without evasion, and worthy and worthy their claim to the helpful regard and gratitude of their countrymen should be ungrudgingly acknowledged.

The assurance to the people of the utmost individual liberty consistent with peace and good order is the cardinal principle of our government. This gives no sanction to restrictions, which are not justified by the necessities of the moment, and which are not necessary to the maintenance of the government. The interference of the government with such habits and customs of our people as are not of a just and moral sense, and are not inconsistent with good citizenship and the welfare of the nation, is a violation of the principle. The same principle requires that the line between subjects which are properly within the control of the state and those which are properly left to parental regulation, should be carefully kept in view. A enforced education, wisely deemed as proper preparation for citizenship, should not involve the impairment of the wholesome parental authority, nor do violence to the household conscience. Paternalism in the government finds no approval in the democracy. It is a system of misrule whether it is manifested in authorized gifts, or unwarranted control of personal and family affairs.

The generous hospitality, which is one of the most prominent of our national characteristics, prompts us to welcome the worthy and industrious of all lands, to homes and citizenship among us. This hospitable sentiment is not violated, however, by careful and reasonable regulations for the protection of the public health, nor does it justify the reception of emigrants who have no appreciation of our institutions and whose presence among us is a menace to peace and good order.

The importance of the construction of the Nicaragua ship canal as a means of promoting commerce between our states and the other countries, and also as a contribution by Americans to enterprises which advance the interests of the world's civilization, should command the project to governmental approval and endorsement. Both their material interests and national pride and honor are involved in the success of the Columbian exposition, and they will be inclined to condone any great effort on the part of their government to spread the grandeur of this fitting exhibit, which exhibits the growth and greatness and a splendid demonstration of American patriotism.

Though much is left unwritten, my record as a public servant leaves no excuse for misunderstanding my belief and position on questions which are now presented to the voters of the land for their decision. Called for the third time to represent the party of my choice in the contest for the supremacy of the democratic principles, my grateful appreciation of its confidence in me is not less sincere than my sense of its responsibility.

Reward in Old Age.

Sedalia, Mo., September 28.—J. W. Leach, a Missouri Pacific engineer and founder of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, returned from Cincinnati, where he attended the annual convention of the latter brotherhood. While absent he was presented with a check for $3,000 by the order that he founded, with which to purchase a home where he can spend his declining years in peace and happiness. Mr. Leach has held every important office in the organization and is known and respected from one end of the Union to the other.

The president has accepted the resignation of Judge Lawrence Crouse, assistant secretary of the treasury. It is said that Secretary Foster favors the appointment of Charles Cook, of New York. Crouse is a republican candidate for governor of Nebraska.

The heavy Mexican trade that sprung into life with the suspension of the Mexican duty on corn has been a great thing for Kansas City grain men, and a serious matter for western farmers. It is said that several Kansas City grain firms have made $50,000 each out of the business.

A cave in occurred at No. 8 mine at Ironwood, Mich., September 29, and it is feared ten lives were lost. The mine was soon surrounded by the weeping relations of the imprisoned men, and the miners went to work quickly and put forth their utmost efforts to rescue their companions.

John G. Farr, of Paris, Tex., was awarded $12,500 damages against the St. Louis & San Francisco Railway company in the United States court for the Indian Territory. The loss to Farr is of his left leg, which was cut off by the defendant's train while Farr was in the discharge of his duty.

A terrible wind and snow storm prevailed on Mount Washington the night of September 28, and the summit was reached at 100 miles per hour. Wire communication with the Glen house and the Summit was cut off, and trains could not get down the mountain on account of snow and ice.

Toby Sportelli, a railroad boss in charge of a gang of Italian laborers near Bradford, Pa., was blown into eternity by a can of dynamite being exploded under his feet. The laborers were paid a few days ago, and charged that Sportelli held out part of their wages for board, which was not due.

A great sensation was created at Homestead, Pa., by the arrest for treason of a number of the members of the advisory committee of the Homestead strikers. The arrested men were taken to the state prison. The penalty, which formerly was death, is now twelve years in the penitentiary.

Six hundred of the Missouri National guard were to go to Chicago to attend the dedication of the world's fair buildings and the railroad made a rate of 2 cents per mile for companies in uniform. Governor Francis now intimates that, as there is no money to pay to the guard, they may stay at home.

President Harrison said that he would be unable to attend the reunion of his regiment at Indianapolis on the 15th of next month owing to the critical condition of Mrs. Harrison. The same reason would prevent him from taking his western trip, which included being present at the opening of the world's fair.

The annual report of the Utah commission states that polygamy still exists and arrests for that practice have of late become numerous. During the past year there were 156 cases that came to the judicial knowledge of the United States, in eighty-three of which indictments were found, sixty-nine convictions resulted and 115 acquittals.

A wonderful phenomenon was observed in the heavens about 6:30 p. m. at Springfield, Ill., September 28. The object was a bright body, resembling in size and brilliancy a good sized star, was seen moving with great rapidity toward the moon, which it struck with tremendous force, darkening its light for an instant. Scientists are inclined to say a meteor came within the power of the moon's attraction and fell upon it.

The Wrong Side of Fifty.—Reader, have you passed the meridian of life? Are your joints getting stiff, your muscles and sinews losing their elasticity? Are you troubled with lumbago? Are you, in short, in daily or occasional receipt of any of those advertisements which nature gives to remind people that they are growing old? If so, try a bottle of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a most genial and agreeable mitigator of the infirmities of age, and a rapid promoter of convalescence and an effective means of counteracting bodily decay. Good digestion, sound sleep, a hearty appetite, freedom from rheumatic twinges are among the benign fruits that spring from the regular and persistent use of this superior tonic and corrective, which has secured the unqualified sanction of the medical fraternity. Give it the fair trial that it deserves, and you will be grateful for this advice.

KEEP CLEAN.

This is the dictum of nature. When people refuse to listen to her voice she sends the cholera or typhus fever or some other malady to teach them their duty. These diseases are the children of dirt. So is indigestion and dyspepsia. When the stomach and bowels are overloaded with undigested food, sickness will follow unless this material be removed. The best things in the world for this purpose are the Laxative Gum Drops. These act directly on the digestive organs, rousing to action and thus enabling them to expel all morbid and waste matter. As soon as this is done the digestion is assured and the patient is restored to health. When a powerful cathartic is taken, the reaction produces a worse state of constipation than there was at first, but with these Laxative Gum Drops the action is gentle and pleasant and when the desired result is produced the patient is fully restored to health. All traces of indigestion are removed. Get them of any dealer.
